40 White Paper Motion (in the name of Councillor J Procter) - Core Strategy Housing Target

It was moved by Councillor J Procter, seconded by Councillor B Anderson that this Council welcomes the initial findings from the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA) suggesting that the ruling Labour administration has indeed set a Core Strategy housing target far in excess of what the city actually required.

Council is concerned about the damage already done to communities in Leeds as a result of their 70,000 target and recalls the many warnings from opposition parties that the council leadership ignored over the past 5 years regarding this inflated figure.

70,000 houses was neither desirable nor deliverable and this Council looks forward to a housing target that is based on reality as opposed to a political view founded in the Regional Spatial Strategies of the Blair/Brown years.

An amendment was moved by Councillor Campbell, seconded by Councillor J Bentley, 'Delete all after "(SHMA)"

Amended Motion would read;

'that this Council welcomes the initial findings from the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMA)'

A second amendment was moved by Councillor R Lewis, seconded by Councillor C Gruen , Delete all after "This Council" and replace with:

"welcomes the Labour Administration's decision to instigate a review of the government inspector-approved 70,000 housing target number in the Core Strategy.

Council notes the initial findings from the Strategic Housing Market Assessment (SHMAA) and recognises that, in line with national guidance, it will take some time before the revised numbers can be used to take planning decisions.

Council recognises the milestone made in submitting the Site Allocation Plan for examination in public and the importance that this process has in strengthening the ability to resist inappropriate planning applications, which cause anger and frustration in many areas of the city.

Council therefore calls on all political groups to put the clear interests of the city and our residents first and support the Site Allocations Plan."

41 White Paper Motion (in the name of Councillor Blake) - Government Investment

It was moved by Councillor Blake, seconded by Councillor Pryor that this Council believes the economy of the North does not currently perform to its full potential due to a lack of investment in crucial infrastructure such as transport, education and housing.

Council believes as the UK moves closer to Brexit, significant investment is needed to increase economic growth across the North and rebalance the national economy which will benefit the wealth of the country as a whole.

Council believes this longstanding deficiency stops children and young people in Leeds making the most of their potential through life and discourages inward investment and economic growth. Evidence demonstrates inadequate transport networks limit journeys for freight and people, businesses cannot recruit qualified staff and low pay is endemic.

This Council regrets recent attempts by cabinet ministers to abdicate responsibility for addressing these issues and agrees to write to the Prime Minister to seek assurances on much-needed Government investment.

An amendment was moved by Councillor Campbell, seconded by Councillor Lay, 'in paragraph three, delete "children and young people in Leeds" and replace with "citizens in Leeds from"

A second amendment was moved by Councillor Lamb, seconded by Councillor Buckley

Delete all after 'This Council' and replace with:

is concerned that the ruling administration continues to look to Government rather than delivering proactive and innovative ways of dealing with issues in Leeds. Council sees this as an attempt to abdicate responsibility for dealing with key issues here in our city as highlighted by the failure to secure a devolution deal for our region over the past 5 years.

Council welcomes record investment into the region under successive Conservative Governments, including the UK's largest Growth Deal agreed for the Leeds City Region and recalls the disappointing levels of investment in Leeds under the last Labour Government, highlighted by the last minute scrapping of the Supertram scheme.

Council notes the successes achieved here in Leeds thanks to the Conservative Government's long-term economic plan and competent stewardship of the public finances since 2010. This has resulted in Leeds experiencing the fastest private sector jobs growth of any UK city; having the largest concentration of financial and professional services and digital jobs in the UK outside of London; recording the second highest productivity levels of the core cities; and, in the Leader of Council's own words, delivering "a strong economy that has enabled the city to recover well from the recession."

Council recognises that it is business and commerce, supported by central government economic policy that has contributed to record growth in the city and Council welcomes continued government investment into the region.

The amendments in the name of Councillor Campbell and Councillor Lamb were declared lost and upon the motion being put to the vote it was

42 White Paper Motion (in the name of Councillor Field) - WASPI (Women Against State Pension Inequality)

It was moved by Councillor Field, seconded by Councillor Campbell that this Council calls on the Government to urgently undertake a review of the State Pension Laws 1995 and 2011 and how they impact on woman in Leeds born in the 1950s, who have found the goalposts moved in terms of when they receive their state pension.

Further, that this Council supports the WASPI (Women Against State Pension Inequality) campaign group, which campaigns for justice for all women born in the 1950s affected by the changes to the State Pension Law (1995/2011 Acts).

The 1995 Pension Act included plans to increase women's SPA (State Pension Age) to 65, the same as men's. WASPI agrees with equalisation, but does not agree with the unfair way the changes are being implemented – with little or no personal notice (1995/2011 Pension Acts), faster than promised (2011 Pension Act), and no time to make alternative plans.

Retirement plans have been shattered with devastating consequences.

WASPI is seeking to achieve fair state pension transitional arrangements for those women born in the 1950s, affected by those two pieces of legislation, who have already reached what would have been their state pension age.

This Council supports those aims and calls on the Government to act on legislation which has negatively affected often low paid women, who were relying on their state pension in retirement.

An amendment was moved by Councillor Coupar, seconded by Councillor Heselwood,

Delete all after “alternative plans” and replace with:

“Many women born in the 1950's are living in hardship. Retirement plans have been shattered with devastating consequences. Many of these women are already out of the labour market, caring for elderly relatives, providing childcare for grandchildren, or suffer discrimination in the workplace so struggle to find employment.

Women born in this decade are suffering financially. These women have worked hard, raised families and paid their tax and national insurance with the expectation that they would be financially secure when reaching 60. It is not the pension age itself that is in dispute - it is widely accepted that women and men should retire at the same time.

The issue is that the rise in the women's state pension age has been too rapid and has happened without sufficient notice being given to the women affected, leaving women with no time to make alternative arrangements.

This council notes the Executive Member for Communities raised this at Full Council on 14th September 2016, condemns the way the conservative government has implemented these changes, calls on the government to reconsider transitional arrangements for women born on or after 6th April 1951 so women do not live in hardship, and introduce legislation so accrued rights to the basic state pension cannot be changed in the future. “

Amended motion will read:
