Commentary

There are 12 fewer children and young people (79 vs 91; a 13 per cent reduction) from the Outer East area committee area that are looked after in June 2013 than in June 2012. This reduction is bigger than the citywide reduction.

There are five fewer children and young people (81 vs 86; a 6 per cent reduction) from the Outer East area committee area that are subject to a child protection plan in June 2013 than in June 2012. This reduction is bigger than the citywide reduction. Between April and June 2013, two more CAFs were carried out than the same period 12 months ago. This equates to a seven per cent rise (30 to 32).

16 per cent fewer requests for service (640 vs 765), and 15 per cent fewer referrals (217 vs 256) were received from the Outer East area committee area in the first three months of 2012/13 than the first three months of 2011/12. These reductions are significantly higher than the citywide reductions of four (requests for service), and three per cent (referrals).

Commentary

Outer East area committee area attendance levels in primary schools reduced by almost half a percentage point to 95.5 per cent in 2012/13 compared to 2011/12. This is slightly less than the citywide reduction. The same reduction was seen in secondary school attendance levels in the area, with the 2012/13 figure of 94.4 per cent being the third highest level of all area committees. Primary school persistent absence rose by 30 per cent in the Outer East area committee area, this is higher than the citywide rise of almost 13 per cent. 220 children were persistently absent in 2012/13, up by 51 from 169 in 2011/12. 14 per cent more children were persistently absent from secondary schools in the area, up by 44 to 355. This was one of five area committee areas that saw a rise in persistent absence at secondary schools, counter to the modest citywide reduction of 0.5 per cent.

The percentage of 'not known' young people in the Outer East area committee area has reduced by three percentage points, from six per cent in June 2012 to three per cent in June 2013. The percentage of young people identified as NEET has risen from 4.5 per cent in June 2012 to five per cent in June 2013.
