

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

All the council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

Currently in Leeds; white British females aged between 14 and 16 years old are over represented in terms of identification of young people at risk of or experiencing child sexual exploitation. There are a number of interconnecting reasons for this; both locally and nationally. High quality appropriate training for professionals will help to address raising awareness of this issue, and highlight the fact that all children, regardless of background, race, ethnicity and gender are at risk of being exploited.

- Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

The issue of Child Sexual Exploitation is an emotive one. Media reports often skew perceptions of both the victims and perpetrators of CSE for example that it is white girls that are exploited by groups of Asian males. The proposed training will aim to provide an evidence based perspective of the picture in Leeds and nationally, which should have a positive impact on access to services by a wider, more equal, representation of young people.

- Actions (think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

The training will aim to bust myths relating to Child Sexual Exploitation and support staff to challenge misconceptions that may act as a barrier to services for vulnerable young people.

5. If you are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you will need to carry out an impact assessment.*
