

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

1. Title: RE:FIT Phase 2

Is this a:

Strategy / Policy

Service / Function

Other (works)

If other, please specify

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening

RE:FIT is an approved procurement framework that allows the public sector to retrofit buildings with energy saving products and measures to reduce energy consumption, carbon emissions, and ultimately, utility costs as well. Leeds City Council previously ran a successful pilot on behalf of the 'core cities group' to test RE:FIT. The council is now tasked with conducting a 2nd phase of RE:FIT, where a further 9 buildings across the city have been preliminarily identified as suitable for retrofitting. Once all necessary approvals – both corporately and from officers with overall management responsibilities for each of the prospective sites – has been secured, we can proceed with the necessary procurement process and appoint a 3rd party energy services company (ESCO) to carry out the associated works on our behalf. The impact of the works is likely to be low in terms of equality concerns, especially given the fact that the commissioning process itself will be used to stipulate compliance with the procurement unit's 'contractors' code of conduct', which addresses many relevant issues. Furthermore, disruption to building users – stemming from the works – will be kept to a bare minimum.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation and any other relevant characteristics (for example socio-economic status, social class, income, unemployment, residential location or family background and education or skills levels).

Questions	Yes	No
Is there an existing or likely differential impact for the different equality characteristics?
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns about the policy or proposal?
Could the proposal affect how our services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom?
Could the proposal affect our workforce or employment practices?
Does the proposal involve or will it have an impact on <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eliminating unlawful discrimination, victimisation and harassment • Advancing equality of opportunity • Fostering good relations

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Actions (think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

5. If you are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you will need to carry out an impact assessment.*
