Subject: TESCO EXPRESS ELLAND ROAD LEEDS - 'NEW' PL APPLICATION [NOT PROTECTIVELY MARKED]

To whom it may concern,
Thank you for your recent application for a 'new' premises licence at your existing premises in the Churwell area of Leeds.

Whilst it is perfectly acceptable for any operator, to exercise its discretion by applying for a new licence as opposed to a variation of its existing authority, the police also consider in such circumstances, that existing conditions of the licence should be taken into account, especially where those conditions have previously been recommended by the police and agreed by the operator.

Therefore, with what amounts, it would seem, to no more than a variation of one hours trading, when comparing the application to the existing premises licence, West Yorkshire Police would suggest that the existing three conditions relating to CCTV, should at the very least remain as they are word for word, and not be replaced by what is proposed by the applicant on this occasion.

This argument is strengthened further, when it is considered that these three conditions were only agreed with the police by the same operator back in February 2011, and also, the wording of other conditions of the existing licence are not affected by what is proposed with this application.

I look forward to your reply.
