

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

If other, please specify

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening

Children’s services have been successful in gaining a grant from the Department of Education Innovations fund the initiative this fund will implement is called Family Valued. This initiative will increase the use of restorative practices and family group conferencing with families where domestic violence is an issue. This screen is for the commissioning strand of the initiative where services will be expanded to absorb the emerging needs from the earlier use of family group conferencing.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

Questions	Yes	No
Is there an existing or likely differential impact for the different equality characteristics?	x
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns about the policy or proposal?		x
Could the proposal affect how our services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom?	x
Could the proposal affect our workforce or employment practices?		x
Does the proposal involve or will it have an impact on <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eliminating unlawful discrimination, victimisation and harassment • Advancing equality of opportunity • Fostering good relations 	x

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

The family valued initiative will facilitate restorative practice and family group conferencing throughout Leeds with a focus on families where domestic violence is an issue. Some services for families experiencing domestic violence will be expanded, the services to be expanded were carefully considered and the offer interventions that are particularly needed.

In some of the services that have been expanded particular thought has been given to reaching communities who may have found it difficult to access provision previously. So the expansion of services should enhance access to service from communities who have historically not found it easy to access provision or communities that are newly established in Leeds.

- Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

This project is set to address difficulties in families where domestic violence is an issue by expanding provision to work with perpetrators, victims and children this initiative will promote healthy relationships and elements of the programme have been adapted to ensure that there is enhanced access to the interventions and support from communities that may have previously found services difficult to access.

- Actions
(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

The Family Valued initiative has a good communications plan, and is set to work through the clusters to promote the offer. The commissioned and expanded internal services will be promoted as part of the offer.

5. If you are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you will need to carry out an impact assessment.
