

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

Decision to award a contract for Job Coach support to The Pluss Organisation without subjecting the matter to competition.

The Pluss organisation are the current provider of this support so the new contract put in place from the 1st September 2016 is a continuation of the existing delivery model. The service is for young people with complex needs, so the continued delivery of the programme will enable continued support for that group of young people to enter employment.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

The Supported Internship delivery programme that involves the use of Job Coaches follows a national model. The service is deliberately put in place for young people with Complex needs so will have an impact of the cohort of young people with disabilities, as the programme is designed around their needs.

- Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

The continued delivery of the programme will have a positive impact on young people with disabilities as it is designed to increase the employment opportunities for this cohort.

- Actions (think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

The positive outcomes for young people that undertake Supported Internships will be promoted through the Supported Internship Steering Group.
