I write strongly objecting to the proposals of altering the former HSBC bank into a club of this sort.

The noise from the club music will be totally unacceptable, as it will affect my health from this building.

Last week-end the music from the Station public house, Oxford Road, across the road from the former HSBC bank site was deafening. For several years they held an annual Music Festival. Even keeping all my windows closed it was impossible to blot it out.

I wait for your reply.

Yours sincerely,
