

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation and any other relevant characteristics (for example socio-economic status, social class, income, unemployment, residential location or family background and education or skills levels).

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

• How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration?
(think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

The proposal is to expand and raise the upper age limit of Farsley Westroyd Infant School. The demographics of the area were considered when working up the proposal, such as the number of under 5's living nearest the school, parental preference trends and the potential impact of any planned new housing, and it was concluded that additional capacity is required. The types of schools in the area were also considered, to ensure we adhere to our legal duty of ensuring parents are offered choice and diversity.

We will be consulting with those affected on this proposal in September/October 2013, including parents and prospective parents, governors and staff of the school and nearby schools, the Diocese, Councillors, MPs and local residents. Typically, respondents raise issues regarding the size of the proposed school, and in terms of infant and junior schools, how the transition to a through primary school would work. Traffic and highways issues, and the reasons why the school has been selected are also raised.

• Key findings
(think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

Age – Combined with a linked proposal to lower the age limit of, and expand, Farsley Springbank Junior School (see separate screening form), a further 30 reception places will be created in the Farsley area. The infant school will become a primary school and, after a period of transition, will therefore accept children up to age 11.

Disability – any new accommodation will meet DDA guidelines.

Positive impact on ensuring we promote choice and diversity.

• Actions
(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

If the linked proposals are taken forward, the extra places at will be made available in reception from September 2015, parents will therefore have the option of applying for these places or choosing alternative schools.

During the consultation period, all views and responses will be considered equally.
