Hi [REDACTED]

A few things to note as I read through this:

1. The general environment of the K2 Building isn't particularly noisy, especially at the back of the building on the west face where the club is intended. There is little traffic and footfall there.
2. The plant activity on the roof of unit 2 makes no perceptible noise inside apartments.
3. Your plan of unit 2 is incorrect in this document, the unit incorporates the entire area underneath the residential tower as well as the area shown inside the blue box. So the bar area will be directly beneath the residential tower.
4. The test speaker position shown was at the opposite side of the building to apartment 4 where you have stated the sound was listened for. A conclusive test would need to be carried out by arranging access to one of the 4th floor apartments which is where columns are and the sound is likely to be heard. Until this happens we cannot possibly know what the resulting noise levels are for residents. I'm curious as to why access wasn't requested in the first instance which can be permitted anytime.

Warm regards
