25 City Plan Engagement

The Chair introduced and welcomed Councillor Jane Dowson, Deputy Executive Member (Strategy & Policy) together with Mike Eakins, Intelligence and Policy Manager.

Addressing the Committee, Councillor Dowson said it had been 10 years since the last City Plan had been undertaken. During that period a lot of significant events had taken place: Brexit, Devolution, the Climate Emergency and most recently the Covid-19 Pandemic. It was suggested that Local Authorities could no longer do everything for themselves, Councillor Dowson said we require the support of the private sector who need to step up and become more involved at a local level.

Members were informed that the new City Plan would draw upon the many on-going consultations: The Strategic Needs Assessment, Planning Consultation and the Highways and Transportation Consultation, but we need to hear from local people. Councillor Dowson said Leeds had a population of 800,000, what happens in Leeds effects the whole of the north of England in terms of: employment, financial services, digital infrastructure, Leeds also has a large student population. Issues such as climate change and the pandemic had taught us that we need to communicate with each other (external parties) to share the vision in order to move ideas forward.

The Intelligence and Policy Manager spoke further about “A new City Plan for Leeds” and explained: why now for a City Plan, what will the City Plan aim to do and how will the City Plan be developed.

Members were requested to provide feedback on the following discussion questions:

- What are the big issues for Leeds now, and over the next ten years?
- What are the big issues for the Outer North East now, and over the next ten years?
- How can local communities play their part? What strengths can they draw upon?
- Does “Best City” still resonate? If not, what could it be replaced with?

In responding Members said:

HS2, the expansion of Leeds/Bradford airport, flood alleviation and a mass transport system were all important issues for the City which required progressing.

At a local level public transport, in the outer areas was a major concern, also there was a vast amount of housing development taking place in Wetherby, in the near future would there be sufficient school places, GP practices and could the local road network cope with increased traffic generation. The local refuse collection service in the Outer North East area was unreliable and inefficient. In education the key stage 2 results for the area were very poor, many parents choosing to send their children to schools in North Yorkshire as a consequence.

Responding to the question, how could local Communities play their part – Members said that the Outer North East area had a large number of Parish and Town Councils and it was important to engage and hear from these organisations if you wanted to understand what was the need at a local level. On the issue of local strengths, it was reported that the Boston Spa Academy had been identified as an outstanding school and that it may be possible for the school to share its management strategies with other schools across the city.

In terms of does “Best City” still resonate? – Members were of the view that for those residents living in the outer areas i.e Wetherby, identity was an issue, many did not associate themselves as Leeds residents and considered they were very much removed from those residents living south of the ring road, where in their view the majority of the LCC resources appeared to be concentrated.

The Chair reported that a “Big Leeds Chat” event was taking place in Wetherby on 20th October 2021 where similar issues would be discussed, it was therefore very important that “decision makers” should attend.

Councillor Dowson thanked Members for their feedback, commenting that it was important to hear from all parts of the city which had different challenges.

The Chair thanked Councillor Dowson for her attendance and participation.

26 Libraries Service Update

The Chair introduced and welcomed Andrea Ellison, Chief Librarian and Mark Kirkby, Senior Librarian from Library Services.

The Chief Librarian provided an overview of the activity of Leeds libraries during the past 18 months which included:

- Customer support
- Customer support for developing digital skills
- Developing the digital library offer – Resources and online events/ activities

Members were also informed of the key priorities for the service as part of the Service Recovery Strategy:

- Economic recovery, with help and training for job seekers and entrepreneurs
- Education support for children and SEND (special education needs) students who struggled to learn at home
- Isolation mitigation for vulnerable groups and to help people reconnect locally

- Digital inclusion for residents who lack IT skills or who have no access to the Internet
- Cultural partnership to help local artists and arts organisations to continue their work

Members acknowledged the vast majority of the service was based centrally, but what were the plans for outer areas and in particular the older population in those areas.

Members were informed that the Library Service did have a fleet of buses which were used as mobile libraries, currently these buses were being used as vaccination buses but as the services returned to more normal working, the mobile library services would resume. It was also reported that a library services was operational in the various Community hubs.

Members queried how audio books were accessed through the Library Service and also how newspapers could be accessed.

In responding the Chief Librarian said some newspapers, including the YEP could be accessed by downloading the Libraries App on the Council Website (Via press reader). There was also a well-established database of audio books and again this could be accessed by downloading the Libraries App.

Members suggested that the older population need to be encouraged to use local libraries and be offered training on computers/ digital devices, the possible use of family history/ Leodis as a way of creating interest.

Councillor Robinson said there was a proposal to run a pilot programme for digital skills in the Scholes Library to raise awareness of the Library Service. If the pilot is successful the scheme could be tried in other areas, creating digital health clubs.

Members asked if there was much work undertaken with schools.

The Chief Librarian said the Library Service operated a Schools Library Service. Members were informed that during the pandemic the service operated on- line, but as more normal working resumes children will be reacquainted with libraries, getting them into Libraries as “real members”

Councillor Lamb requested if the experience of the Library Service could be sought in promoting/ advertising the 200th Anniversary of the sale of Wetherby. Councillor Lamb said it was intended to deliver a project that would showcase the history of Wetherby over the past 200 years through the use of historic photographs, archive material and maps, progressing through to more modern times and the use of drone footage and virtual tours. Once completed the project would deliver an historic record of Wetherby covering the last 200 years.

In responding the Chief Librarian said the service may be able to offer its knowledge and experience where necessary

The Chair thanked Officers for their attendance and contributions.

RESOLVED – That the contents of the report be noted.

27 Considerations Regarding the Harmful Environmental Effects of Motorways

The Chair introduced and welcomed Richard Crowther, Team Leader, Environmental Advisory Team, City Development.

Mr Crowther explained that this Joint Report by the Chief Officer Highways & Transportation and the Chief Planning Officer had been prepared following representations to this Committee by a Bramham resident, concerned about the environmental impacts associated with the motorway network, particularly noise and air quality within the Outer North East Community area and the policies of Leeds City Council for mitigating the impacts on local residents.

Referring to air quality Mr Crowther said the monitoring data showed pollution levels associated with motorways tend to be a greater concern within urban areas, where the background concentrations were higher due to a greater number of other contributing sources. He said in more rural areas, general background concentrations of NO₂ were comparatively low and consequently only those properties which were very close to the road were at risk of exceeding the objective levels.

Members were informed that previous monitoring and assessment reviews had concluded that there were no existing properties close enough to the A1(M) within the Leeds District considered to be at risk of exceeding the objective levels.

On the issue of environmental noise management, Mr Crowther explained that noise arising from transport sources, such as Aircraft, Rail and Road vehicles operating in an “ordinary” and lawful manner was specifically exempt from being classed as a statutory nuisance. In the case of Motorways, Highways England were classed as the relevant highway authority and classed as the “noise maker”, whilst Local Authorities were classed as the “noise receiver”.

The mechanisms available for to manage road traffic noise include:

- Use of low noise road surfacing
- Traffic management – such speed limits or vehicle-type restrictions.
- Congestion Management.
- Noise barriers / landscaping.
- Provision of Acoustic glazing

Following the last round of noise mapping published in 2019, Highways England undertook to continue their previous policy of using “low noise” surfacing where there are properties identified as being exposed to the highest noise levels as a result of one of their roads. Members were informed that low noise surfacing also has the benefit of improving the noise exposure for all residents regardless of the noise levels they would otherwise be exposed to. However, low noise surfacing was significantly more expensive than traditional road surfaces and consequently, Highways England had only committed to use it when the existing surfacing requires replacement as part of normal maintenance requirements. As the “noise receiver” Leeds City Council has assessed that the policy as being reasonable and proportionate.

It was reported that in relation to the Outer North East Leeds area, 4 of the 6 lanes of the A1(M) carriageway had now been replaced with low noise surfacing for the majority, if not all, of its route north of the A64

Members asked why had all lanes of the A1(M) carriageway not been replaced with low noise surfacing.

In responding Mr Crowther said there were no properties in close proximity to the motorway at the Bramham section so low noise surfacing was not a priority. It was also reported that the existing surface materials for this section of road were also very robust.

Members referred to the East Leeds Orbital Road (ELOR) and queried if low noise surfacing would be used for sections of this road.

Members were informed this was a new road and would be in close proximity to new housing development so some mitigation measures would be introduced.

Referring to the Environmental Noise Directive, Members requested if the Committee could be informed of any proposed changes.

The Chair thanked Mr Crowther for his attendance and contribution

RESOLVED – That the contents of the report be noted.
