

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions. Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment. Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

The proposals are to expand primary provision at Beeston Hill St Luke's Church of England Primary School from a capacity of 315 pupils to 420 pupils with an increase in the admission number from 45 to 60 and to establish provision for pupils with Complex Communication Difficulties including children who may have a diagnosis of ASC (Autistic Spectrum Condition) for approximately 8 pupils with effect from September 2019.

The demographics of the area were considered when developing the proposal, along with parental preference trends, and projections, and it was concluded that additional mainstream place capacity is required. Holbeck and the wider South Leeds area has also been identified by the Local Authority's Complex Needs team as an area with a deficit of provision for children with complex Communication Difficulties, including ASC, compounded by a parallel rise in demand for primary Resourced Provision from families with children who have Education, Health and Care plans. The above proposal to create a Resourced Provision will help ensure that there are sufficient places for local children with special educational needs (SEN). The types of schools in the area were also considered, to ensure we adhere to our legal duty of ensuring parents are offered choice and diversity.

We consulted those affected on this proposal from 11th September to 6th October 2017, including parents and parents of pupils at local primary schools, governors and staff of the school, nearby schools, local residents, the diocese, Councillors, MPs, and parents and residents groups including EPIC (Empowering Parents, Improving Choices) and Beeston Hill Residents and Tenants Association. The majority of those who responded supported the expansion of the school and the proposal to establish Resourced Provision for pupils with special educational needs (SEN).

To ensure maximum engagement with families we asked the school to promote the consultation on the proposals through their usual methods of communication such as the school website and by sending letters home to the parents of children attending at the school and school nursery. Documents used during the consultation were available from the school and via links to the council's webpage. These documents could be requested in different languages. Informal consultation drop in sessions took place at the school which provided an opportunity for stakeholders to meet council officers, ask questions and to tell us what they thought of the plans. These sessions were planned at school drop off and pick up times to ensure we maximised the opportunity for people to attend and speak with officers, and in particular, to assist working parents/carers and residents.

Stakeholders were able to give their views on the proposals by completing a consultation response form available either from the school offices, online or at the drop in sessions where assistance was offered if required. Alternatively, stakeholders could access an online SNAP survey, email the Sufficiency and Participation team directly or leave comments on an online school place planning forum.

Changes to statutory guidance now requires the authority to publish a Statutory Notice setting out the proposal in a local newspaper and on a website. However, in addition, and in order to ensure a robust process that informs and enables people to respond to the proposals, we will ensure that the school informs its parents about how they can respond, displays copies of the notice in a prominent place within school, and at all entrances to the school. We will also place copies of the notice on lampposts near to the school to ensure that local residents are aware.

Should the proposals proceed, a Statutory Notice will need to be published in order for the authority to comply with guidance that states 'The LA must make a decision within a period of two months of the end of the representation (Statutory Notice) period or they must be referred to the Schools Adjudicator'. Following the end of the Statutory Notice period, the outcome including details of any formal responses would be reported back to Executive Board as the decision maker.

- Key findings

(think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

From the equality impact assessment the sufficiency and participation team found that these proposals would have a positive effect on some of the 6 categories listed below;

- Age
- Gender
- Religion
- Ethnicity
- Disability
- Sexual orientation

Additional learning places create more opportunities for all pupils to be supported and to meet their needs at every age, whether they are male or female, and in every school. This proposal supports that aim and would not have an adverse impact on any child or young person who attends the school included in this proposal. The school ethos and accommodation would ensure that all children and young people who attend can take a full part in the school curriculum in an environment that supports their specific needs regardless of religion, ethnic background and nationality. Expansion of the existing school will ensure that it continues to support the needs of its community by providing more places for local children.

The SEN provision would also allow for some of our most vulnerable learners with ASC (Autistic Spectrum Condition) who often have the academic ability but who are displaced from learning as a result of their social difficulties and anxiety, the chance to access mainstream school. This would be a city-wide provision taking into account the growth in all areas, but particularly for children living in South Leeds. The ASC provision would give the individual pupil a flexible and tailored education as well as providing a safe space within the school. This would be supported by specialist and experienced staff supporting teaching and learning. Pupils would feel safe and have full access to the broad and balanced mainstream curriculum. The aim of the provision would be for pupils to access mainstream most of the time.

Provision within Beeston Hill St Luke's C of E Primary School supports the authority's drive to make Leeds' provision accessible and inclusive.

Any new accommodation would meet the Equality Act 2010 and would, therefore, be accessible for all.

This proposal would have a positive impact on promoting choice and diversity for local families who are applying for a school place. Beeston Hill St Luke's C of E Primary School is an 'Outstanding' school which is popular with local families, benefits from strong leadership and management and serves an increasingly diverse community. An increase in admission numbers would mean that more pupils would benefit from the quality of education and care provided at the school.

- Actions

(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

If the proposals are taken forward, the extra primary places will be made available in reception from September 2019. All parents/carers will therefore have the option of applying for these places or choosing alternative schools.

During the consultation process, all views and responses were considered equally. If the proposal is approved, during the design process for new school accommodation, the plans would be shared with stakeholders and consulted on. Through the design process, any new accommodation to facilitate the expansion of the school would be compliant with the Equality Act 2010. This would ensure that the building is accessible to all users; students, staff and visitors.
