

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being or has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration?

This year's Annual Report highlights the fall in life expectancy for women and a static position for men. The report considers what lies behind these figures for females and males.

- Key findings

There has been a rise in alcohol related mortality in women. There has been a rise in drug related deaths in men and a rise in suicides in men. There is a concerning rise in self harm in young women.

- Actions

There are specific recommendations in regard to findings above plus a broader recommendation for a women's health needs assessment to match one undertaken for men.

5. If you are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you will need to carry out an impact assessment.*
