

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being or has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

To undertake a competitive grants allocation process for the delivery of targeted short breaks for disabled children and young people for a period of twelve months from 01/04/19 to 31/03/20.

Children and Families Directorate currently has in place targeted short breaks services for children and young people with additional needs. In order to ensure continuity of targeted short breaks provision, Children & Families Directorate would like to continue with a competitive grants allocation process for delivery of services from April 19.

Since April 2015, the allocation process for targeted short breaks funding has been administered by Children's Commissioning and Market Management in partnership with parents and carers (via EPIC), children and young people, the voluntary sector, and the former Complex Needs Service. Applications are invited via YORtender ensuring the opportunity is visible to a wide range of prospective providers. The panel, Chaired by Commissioning and Market Management, scores applications according to identified priorities and makes funding recommendations to the budget holder for approval.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies and policies, service and functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater or lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

- Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

- Actions (think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)
