

Chief Planning Officer

Up to £106k

Leeds is a city that's brimming with confidence. We're home to a thriving and dynamic economy. We're a destination of choice for visitors, investors, and major events. And with high profile arrivals such as Channel 4 and HS2 on their way, the momentum just keeps building. It all adds up to an incredibly buoyant development landscape – people want to invest in Leeds and we have ambitious plans for our housing growth. Our role is to ensure that this investment leads to the right kind of development, that complements what's already great about the city and supports our vision for inclusive growth. So we need a lead Planning professional who can bring a strategic perspective, as well as highly developed and tested professional knowledge. Someone who understands both the statutory requirements of the Council and its potential to shape the future of Leeds.
