

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being or has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

The award of a five year contract to Skills Forward, commencing on 1 July 2019 and running through to 30 June 2024.

The Employment and Skills service has received funding through the European Structural Investment Fund to deliver employability and skills programmes over the next 3 years. This funding enables delivery of a wide range of activity, the majority of which is delivered through Employment and Skills advisors working across the City on behalf of the Council.

Known as Employment Hub these programmes are used to develop the skills, confidence, motivation and resilience of residents between 15 and 64 coming from different backgrounds to:

- improve their health and well-being, including mental health and/or
- progress towards and into formal learning or employment

To ascertain the correct level of study for learners, a basic skills assessment is needed.

On-line tools are then needed to help develop learners' skills and prepare them for study and associated tests needed to achieve qualifications.

Employability training also needs to be available on-line to allow for the learners and participants to continue their learning and development away from the formal learning delivered in classrooms and community settings.

All on-line materials are available in a paper based format where on-line access is limited or not suitable for the learner.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies and policies, service and functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater or lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

- Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

- Actions (think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)
