

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

It is proposed that 114 irrecoverable former tenant accounts with total arrears of £99,973.90 are written off.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

Does the proposal involve or will it have an impact on <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eliminating unlawful discrimination, victimisation and harassment • Advancing equality of opportunity • Fostering good relations 	x

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

Fostering good relations with tenants, either current or former, (and where appropriate their families and carers) is key to maintaining a positive reputation for the Council. It is considered prudent financial management to regularly write off un recoverable debts and clear information is given on the grounds for this. The details of the report are published for all tenants to be able to access who can see that the Council will pursue debt where practical and economical to do so.

Due regard of equality and diversity has been taken account of by considering the protective characteristics. This report will have an impact on all former tenants with an account due for write off. Certain particular groups may be more impacted by this report as follows;

- BME tenants: We do not consider any direct implications for this group
- Disabled tenants: We do not consider any direct implications for this group
- Carers: We do not consider any direct implications for this group
- Sexual Orientation: We do not consider there to be any direct implications for this group
- Religion/Belief: We do not consider there to be any direct implications for this group
- Gender: We do not consider any direct implications for this group
- Age: Care Leaver's and Minor's (for which we have a statutory duty) may see an improvement in their circumstances if their debt is written off. Also higher proportions of young people under 25 are struggling to pay their rent and may therefore have former tenant arrears.
- Gender-Reassignment: We do not consider there to be any direct implications for this group.
- Tenants with Mental health issues who have been pursued for the former tenant rent arrears may see an improvement in their mental health if their debt is written off.

- Key findings

(think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

Gaps in information held on former tenants have meant that contact has not been maintained and some former tenants have therefore not received credits due to them. This will not impact on existing tenants but may affect them when they terminate their tenancy.

- Actions

(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

Promotion of the Policy will encourage existing tenants to provide contact details to the Council following termination of their tenancy which should reduce the need to write off Credits in the future.

Publicising the report will allow tenants to see that the Council rigorously pursues former tenants to collect any debt but that there are also valid reasons why some debt is considered for write off. The write off debt is a very small percentage of the rent roll and this should help to improve relations with tenants who are able to see the Council is increasing the amount of money collected relating to former tenants arrears.
