An 18-hole crazy golf course described as "seriously twisted" could be on its way to Leeds soon.

Ghetto Golf, which already has courses in Liverpool, Newcastle and Birmingham, has submitted plans to open a new 18 hole crazy golf course in Kirkstall complete with a bar and outdoor roof terrace.

However, the courses are certainly not for the faint-hearted.

There is also a Jeremy Kyle themed hole at the Newcastle course and even one based on horror film The Exorcist in Birmingham.

Local artists were employed by Ghetto Golf ahead of their previous launches across the UK to cover the courses in brightly-coloured graffiti, with plenty of locally-inspired artwork making each of them unique.

What is planned for Leeds?

The developers have submitted plans to transform a huge empty warehouse in Kirkstall into a crazy golf course, with a bar and an outdoor terrace.

The vacant unit, on the corner of Bodley Terrace and Weaver Street, is on Kirkstall Industrial Estate near Cardigans Fields.

Outline plans have been drawn up for the adults-only golf course immediately next to The Redeemed Christian Church Of God.

Speaking ahead of the launch of its Liverpool site in 2016, Ghetto Golf owner Kip Piper told the Liverpool Echo: "The whole golf course is like a rollercoaster. We've got funny holes, creepy holes, scary holes and even political holes."

"We wanted to create a place that when you come into - it feels like you're at a festival and which is not like any other night out. It's all about the experience."

Our sister title BirminghamLive discovered that a porn film was shot at the Digbeth Ghetto Golf shortly before the venue opened to customers.

At the time, a spokesperson for Ghetto Golf said: "The company were aware the adult movie was filmed on the premises and there are no plans to allow any future explicit films to be shot on location at Ghetto Golf.

"This was the first and only adult movie filmed on location at any of our venues."
