

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being or has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment. Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration?

The provision of unpaid care is an important policy issue because it not only makes a vital contribution to the supply of care, but can also affect the health and wellbeing, employment opportunities, finances and social and leisure activities of those providing it.

The most recent Census suggest there are around 72,000 people in Leeds providing unpaid care. Based on national estimates we can expect around 24,000 people in Leeds to take on an unpaid caring role each year with a similar number ceasing their caring role.

Anyone can become a carer, carers come from all walks of life, all cultures and can be of any age. Many carers feel that they are doing what anyone else would do in the same situation – looking after a parent, a child, a spouse, a friend – and just getting on with it.

Key findings

It is widely recognised that having a break from caring provides positive outcomes for carers and supports them to continue caring which can prevent and reduce dependency on statutory health and social care services, for example GP appointments, hospital admissions and admissions to residential and nursing care.

Carers help to maintain the health and wellbeing of the person they care for, support that person's independence and enable them to stay in their own homes for longer.

The 'Time for Carers' grant is an effective way of reaching high numbers of carers, including those previously unknown, and providing them with a break which they themselves choose based on their own individual circumstances.

Carers can apply for a grant irrespective of whether they and/or the person they care for meet the eligibility criteria for care and support as laid out in Care and Support (Eligibility Criteria) Regulations 2014.

The Time for Carers application process invites carers to request additional support from Carers Leeds, for example contact from a Carer Support Worker, information about support groups, receive a quarterly newsletter. Around 50% of grant recipients go on to receive further support from Carers Leeds which in turn can also reduce demand on statutory health and care services.

Actions

Allocating £150k in 2020/2021 will maintain the funding level of the last 2 years, which has included non-recurrent iBCF. This will enable a minimum of 500 carers to have a short break from caring and up to 20 carer groups to provide opportunities for mutual support as well as for carers to have a break

The Commissioning Programme Lead (Carers) will meet quarterly with the provider in order to discuss service activity and quality in depth which will include reviewing the equality characteristics of carers accessing a Time for Carers Grant and agreeing actions to improve access for under-represented groups.
