

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

The creation of the three posts will have a positive impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration across Yorkshire and Humber. They are necessary to deliver key regional programmes on behalf of a range of bodies including National Government, 15 Local Authorities, VCS and key partner organisations.

- Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

The key findings are that the regional programmes for which these roles will work under, are specifically designed to have a positive impact on all of these aspects, and are part of wider plans and strategies in the region with a range of key partners who all have a stake in this agenda and ensuring positive outcomes.

The new posts, under these areas of work are intended to have a positive impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration across Yorkshire and Humber. The planned recruitment process enables us to make the most of these opportunities.

- Actions (think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

The posts and the related projects will promote the positive impacts and reduce negative impacts.

5. If you are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you will need to carry out an impact assessment.
