

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being or has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening

- Benchmarking work, into learning disability expenditure and client contribution recovery levels, has indicated that Leeds has higher expenditure in learning disabilities and collects significantly less client contributions, when compared against comparator core cities.
- The above situation not only creates issues in relation to the equity of treatment between clients, but also a significant financial pressure for the council.
- To address these issues a programme of work has been agreed of strength based reassessment on all customers seeking additional care; and those who may not have been correctly billed. To enable completion of these reassessments additional resources will be required. As detailed in the key decision report.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies and policies, service and functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater or lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

- The current inequality in the system is brought about by the issues highlighted in section 2 of this paper. This programme of work will put in place an equitable system of care provision and client contribution collection that benefits everybody in Leeds

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration?
(think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

- Key findings
(think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

- Actions
(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)
