

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being or has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening
This EDCI Screening relates to the development of the new Better Lives Strategy and Action Plan 2022 – 2026. In February, Leeds City Council agreed the Best City Ambition for Leeds. The ambition sets out the three key pillars of Health and Wellbeing, Inclusive Growth and Zero Carbon delivered through the continued commitment to strength-based approaches, harnessing a contribution from everyone, and working across sectors with the citizen at the centre of activity. While the Best City Ambition is the overall vision for the future in Leeds, further strategies and plans are required to develop the direction and detailed actions we will take as a city to get there. One such example is the Better Lives Strategy. This is Leeds City Council’s strategy for people with care and support needs. It includes the contribution wider council services make to ensure people who draw on support have a good life. The current version ended 2021.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies and policies, service and functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater or lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

Questions	Yes	No
Is there an existing or likely differential impact for the different equality characteristics?	X
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns about the policy or proposal?	X
Could the proposal affect how our services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom?	X
Could the proposal affect our workforce or employment practices?	X
Does the proposal involve or will it have an impact on <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eliminating unlawful discrimination, victimisation and harassment • Advancing equality of opportunity • Fostering good relations 	X

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

The new Better Lives Strategy sets out our strategic vision and priority actions in relation to people with care and support needs and their families / carers. The priorities and actions proposed reflect the conversations and engagement activities that have taken place with people to help shape the content, along with what is already known through national consultation exercises and other local research activities. The engagement activities to date are listed below.

A full EDCI assessment will be carried out upon a decision by Executive Board to approve the proposed strategy. A full EDCI on organisational change will consider any impacts on our workforce.

In addition, each specific action will also need to consider any impacts of proposed changes to protected characteristics, so separate screening and assessments will be completed as appropriate in this regard.
