

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration (EDCI) screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions. Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being or has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

1. Title: Trial of motorcycle/PTW access to bus lanes on the A65 corridor

Is this a:

Strategy / Policy

 Service / Function

 Other

If other, please specify

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening

A trial has been undertaken for 12 months to evaluate changing current LCC bus lane policy which previously did not allow motorcycles to use bus lanes, to now allow motorcycles/Powered two wheelers to be allowed use of the bus lanes on the A65 in Leeds. The trial was hoped to both support the safety of motorcyclists, by allowing them to avoid congested general traffic lanes and is hoped to through journey time savings promote motorcycling as a sustainable method of travel.

The evaluation has considered the trail a success so a decision has been made to make the scheme permanent.

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies and policies, service and functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater or lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation. Also those areas that impact on or relate to equality: tackling poverty and improving health and well-being.

Questions	Yes	No
Is there an existing or likely differential impact for the different equality characteristics?		x
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns about the policy or proposal?	x
Could the proposal affect how our services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom?		x
Could the proposal affect our workforce or employment practices?		x
Does the proposal involve or will it have an impact on <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Eliminating unlawful discrimination, victimisation and harassment • Advancing equality of opportunity • Fostering good relations 	x

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment.

Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

- How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

Those likely to be affected are those who use the bus lane in some way. This includes bus passengers, taxi passengers and pedal cyclists as well as pedestrians when crossing.

Because taxis are given priority by bus lanes and they are an important mode of travel for disabled people, whilst it is considered very unlikely that allowing motorcycles into bus lanes will cause undue delay to taxis, consultation was carried out with relevant bodies. The Access Use Ability Group (AUAG) were invited to comment but none has been received.

Likewise, representatives of the Hackney trade were invited to comment but none has been received.

A survey was conducted as part of the evaluation of the trial, to investigate impacts on cycling. The survey intercepted cyclists whilst they were riding along the A65, to discover their lived experiences of using the route and interactions with different types of vehicles.

The survey managed to interview 49 cyclists giving a broad sample of experiences. Overall, the results show that sharing a bus lane with motorcyclists has not caused any discomfort to the experiences of cyclists, as no cyclists reported recalling any experiences of having a negative interaction with a motorcyclist.

Leeds City Council has the ambition to be a city where people can access jobs, education, and services without needing to own a car. Therefore, the proposal to promote powered two wheelers, should support for instance those with limited incomes from groups such as younger people such as school and college leavers.

And who might need to access for instance work placements that are hard to reach through the public transport network.

- Key findings

(think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

Whilst not a protected group, the Motorcycle Action Group have voiced public concerns about the impact of not going ahead with the trial, which they believe is important to support the safety of motorcyclists who are a vulnerable road user. There is some concern amongst motorcycling groups that Local Authorities when allocating road space have given too much priority to other groups such as cyclists and not enough priority to the needs of motorcyclists.

The key finding during consultation was that the trial would need to go ahead for potential impacts to be assessed.

The key finding of the trial is that no negative impacts have been reported or observed.

- Actions

(think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

Further comms work will be actioned to try and further the benefits through raising awareness of the scheme

5. If you are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you will need to carry out an impact assessment.
