

Annual Performance
Assessment Report
2008/2009

Adult Social Care
Services

Council Name: Leeds City Council

This report is a summary of the performance of how the council promotes adult social care outcomes for people in the council area.

The overall grade for performance is combined from the grades given for the individual outcomes. There is a brief description below – see Grading for Adult Social Care Outcomes 2008/09 in the Performance Assessment Guide web address below, for more detail.

Poorly performing – not delivering the minimum requirements for people

Performing adequately – only delivering the minimum requirements for people

Performing well – consistently delivering above the minimum requirements for people

Performing excellently- overall delivering well above the minimum requirements for people

We also make a written assessment about

Leadership and

Commissioning and use of resources

Information on these additional areas can be found in the outcomes framework

1.1 Assessment of Leadership and Commissioning and Use of Resources

Leadership

There is evidence that indicates that the overall performance of adult social care services continues to improve, and while the journey to deliver tailored services that meet individual needs (personalisation) and preventative services to reduce reliance on long stay care needs to continue, the council's direction of travel is enabling this to happen.

The council has in place its strategic aims, which are underpinned by supporting policies that have been developed in consultation with people who use services, and has support and leadership from elected members to continue to drive improvement of services. The council works in conjunction with other partners across both the NHS and other statutory and non-statutory sectors.

The council has provided a range of examples of where it is investing additional resources into modern services such as the use of direct payments, and while further improvements in these areas are required, data indicates that the council is making year on year improvements.

The council has retained its Investors in People recognition during the assessment year, and performance regarding the number of staff leaving and the number of vacant posts are now in line and better than comparator councils. The level of sickness absence remains above that of comparator organisations. The council has reviewed its workforce development strategy and identified where improvements need to be made. The council has workforce development plans in place, including management and leadership training for staff.

The council has performance management information systems that are available to appropriate staff and demonstrated through evidence how it utilises this information to ensure improvements to services are made. In addition to this, formal reporting takes place across the council to ensure that elected members and other members of the wider council management team are aware of performance in adult social care.

Commissioning and use of resources

The council published its first joint strategic needs assessment in the spring of 2009. This has provided a unified approach to performance managing the Leeds strategic plan. A joint commissioning strategy has been agreed in conjunction with NHS Leeds, and these allow the council to have a broad understanding of health and social care needs down to a neighbourhood level.

There are many opportunities for people to be involved in the development of services. For example the Leeds Involvement Project, an organisation led by people who use services, provides support for carers and people who use services to have a voice in the planning and improvement of the services they use. The Leeds Involvement Project supports a number of groups including a city wide Alliance of Service Users and Carers, which are five locality based networks that are reference groups for older people, people with mental health problems and people with disabilities, which all feed into the respective modernisation teams which deliver the National Service Frameworks.

The council has a systematic approach for reviewing services, which involves an analysis of the service, consultation with people who use the services, and a re-tendering process that has clear specifications, which are outcome focused. There is an investment planning programme that reflects key strategic commissioning and service priorities, and this covers a five-year period and complements the councils overall medium term financial plan included within its business plan. This work is informed by benchmarking data, including value for money comparisons, performance data and service priorities. After previous years of budget overspend, adult services delivered a balanced budget in 2008 that has allowed the service to focus more effectively on delivering the transformation of the social care agenda.

Summary of Performance

Improving Health and Well Being

People who use services and carers are provided with a range of information, advice and services that support them to undertake physical activity and eat healthily. Information is provided from a variety of sources, and in formats for people with sensory impairments. There are a range of strategies in place to demonstrate the direction of travel for improving health and well-being, for example tobacco control. These are beginning to demonstrate some impact, for example a reduction in the number of people smoking, though the council recognises that further work is required to demonstrate continuing improvements across the whole city. There is an intermediate care strategy in place, and the council provides over four times the number of non-residential intermediate care beds than similar councils. With regard to delayed hospital discharges due to adult social care, the number rose during 2008-2009, but remains below that of similar councils. However the number of people who received a review of their care to ensure that it is still appropriate is lower than comparators. The council is aware of this and the reason why, but should seek to improve performance in this area. The council has services in place to achieve independence for older people, and this level of performance is not only higher than comparators, but also higher than the expected level when compared with England as a whole.

The council provides both frozen and hot meals that meet the National Association of Care Catering (NACC) recommended standards for community meals. Assessment of catering against food hygiene legislation indicates that the majority of homes are assessed as high performing, and nutritional risk assessment tools are used to ensure that those people at risk are identified and appropriate care put in place. The council has been involved in the Marie Curie delivering choice programme, which aims to provide improved end of life services. Evidence indicates that this is having a positive impact on the end of life care for people with complex needs and those who live alone, who are supported to die in their own homes.

Improved Quality of Life

The council provides information from a variety of locations and in formats that are accessible for people with sensory impairments that allow people to make decisions about care services that they require. Telephone access numbers have been simplified with one general number and information is available from the council website. The council provides more extracare housing than comparator councils, and supports more people to live independently than comparators. However the time people wait for minor adaptations, though demonstrating year on year improvements in still below comparators, and the overall number of people who are waiting for both minor and major adaptations is greater than that of comparator councils. The council has developed IT systems for people to access adaptations through self-assessment, which has resulted in people receiving a faster service. A variety of services are provided for people who use services, carers and young carers, both directly by the council, as well as through a large number of third sector providers. The council has a comprehensive independent living project where the involvement of people with learning difficulties has been central to its development.

Making a Positive Contribution

The council has a comprehensive approach to the involvement of people in the development of services across the city. This includes providing training, support and advocacy to enable people who use services and carers to contribute effectively to boards and groups to ensure their voice is heard. People that represent the views of carers and users of services from black and minority ethnic (BME) groups are represented, and have contributed to the development of local, regional and national policy. The wide ranging third sector provides opportunities for people who use services to volunteer, but also to take part in community life by being part of the leadership of these organisations.

Increased Choice and Control

Information is provided to people who use services and those requiring services to assist them in making choices as to the services they require; as noted above this information is available from a variety of sources and in many formats. The council provides targeted information for carers, people from BME communities and other groups, and the Infostore, an online source of information for older people won a national award for its innovative approach. With regard to the timeliness of assessment and delivery of services, the council performs above and below comparators respectively. The council continues to increase the number of people who receive direct payments, but performance remains below that of comparators. Advocacy services are provided to support people in making decisions about their care, as well as supporting people to be involved in service developments with the council. The council is reviewing its assessment and care management services and implemented new supervision arrangements for staff and has implemented a new electronic assessment system that allows instant costing of care packages and electronic approval to speed up the process of assessment.

More carers receive breaks or specific packages of care than in comparators councils, and evidence from surveys indicates that the majority of those who have an assessment are satisfied with the process and outcome. The council provided examples of services that it provides to support people to live independently, and enable people to have choice and control over their social care needs. Access to social care staff is available 24 hours a day, and the council have systems in place to ensure a joined up approach with health services. There is a complaints process in place and the independence, wellbeing and choice inspection found that the council's complaints service "was strong and represented an important part of the performance management process. The process was effective and established and had used information from complaints about service deficits to drive improvement".

Freedom from Discrimination and Harassment

The council publishes its fair access to care (FAC) criteria, which remains at substantial and critical risk to independence. The council receives few complaints about its FAC criteria and people who are not eligible are signposted to the wide range of third sector organisations. The council has a range of checks and balances in place to ensure the application of its FAC criteria is fairly and equitably applied. The Safer Leeds Executive provides the leadership for a range of systems and programmes of work to help improve community cohesion and safety. The council has achieved level four of the local government equality scheme, and has undertaken work to improve intergenerational understanding in partnership with people from local communities and schools. Services are also provided for the gypsy and traveller communities and survivors of persecution and exile.

Economic Well Being

The council provides information and support for people to maximise benefits and pensions, and has supported people to access £10.7 million in additional benefits during 2008-2009. The council works with other agencies to provide advice and guidance to people to support them in managing their finances, and provides support for people who lack capacity in managing their financial affairs as appointee's. People who receive direct payments receive financial advice and support to reduce the risk of financial mismanagement. The council provide many opportunities for people who use services to seek training and employment, though there are fewer people with learning difficulties in employment than in comparator councils. The council provides support for carers, has recently developed its carers strategy, and the impact of this is yet to be evidenced.

Maintaining Personal Dignity and Respect

The independence, well being and choice inspection found a number of concerns with the council's safeguarding arrangements. Since this inspection, the council has worked to improve its safeguarding systems and processes. The council has recruited a range of staff to expand its establishment to deal with safeguarding referrals. There has been a review and implementation of new guidance, safeguarding governance arrangements, serious case review processes and linkages with partner organisations. This activity has contributed to a large increase in the number of safeguarding referrals, which the council has been able to keep pace with in terms of completed cases. Internal and external audit has taken place, which has demonstrated that the new procedures are working, but that there remains further work to do to embed the changes across the organisation. Elected members have been involved in championing the new safeguarding arrangements. Training has been reviewed, and 70% of council staff have received training, though the council estimates that 98% of staff in the independent sector have received training.

The council has undertaken a number of activities to improve dignity and respect, and dignity audits have taken place that involve people who have used services as part of the assessment team. The council generally purchases long-term nursing or residential care in line with national purchasing patterns, or proportionately more in good or excellent rated homes.

Outcome 1: Improved health and well-being

The council is performing: Well

1.2 What the council does well.

- Plans and strategies are in place to tackle health and wellbeing inequalities.
- There is evidence that processes are beginning to impact e.g. smoking cessation.
- Independence for older people through rehabilitation and intermediate care is better than other similar councils.

What the council needs to improve.

- The council should continue to work in partnership across Leeds to reduce health inequalities.
- Further work is required to develop and widen access to end of life services.
- The council should continue to develop its work to improve the quality of meals, ensuring that people who use services are involved in developments where appropriate.

Outcome 2: Improved quality of life

The council is performing: Well

1.3 What the council does well.

- Improvements in preventative services to help people live at home.
- The scope and scale of the Neighbourhood Networks that provide a range of support to many thousand people across the city.
- Adults helped to live independently.
- Support and services for people with complex needs.

What the council needs to improve.

- The council should continue to reduce waiting times for all adaptations.

Outcome 3: Making a positive contribution

The council is performing: Excellently

1.4 What the council does well.

- The council's range and breadth of systems to involve people who use services and carers to be systematically involved in the development and commissioning of services across the city.
- The range of voluntary organisations that the council grant funds to provide support and volunteering opportunities for people across the city.

What the council needs to improve.

- The council should continue to embed the involvement of people who use services and carers to ensure that services are available to all.

Outcome 4: Increased choice and control

The council is performing: Adequately

1.5 What the council does well.

- The access to and range of information for people who use services.
- Complaints are handled effectively and efficiently.

What the council needs to improve.

- The council should continue to develop its range of and access to services to ensure that people who use services have choice and control over the type of service provided including reviews of people's need.
- The council should continue to improve its care management services.
- The council should implement its review of out of hour's services.

Outcome 5: Freedom from discrimination and harassment

The council is performing: Well

1.6 What the council does well.

- The council has achieved level four of the local government equality scheme.
- The councils work on community cohesion and inclusion.

What the council needs to improve.

- The council should continue to embed services across the city and evidence the impact that these have on improving people's lives.
- The council should continue its work with partners to improve community safety.

Outcome 6: Economic well - being

The council is performing: Well

1.7 What the council does well.

- The variety of support and information to enable people to be financially secure.
- Joint working with other agencies to maximise people's income.
- The range of opportunities for people who use services to work.

What the council needs to improve.

- Services to support carers to stay in or enter into employment should be further developed.
- The council should develop systems to evidence the impact of its systems to support people with learning disabilities into employment.

Outcome 7: Maintaining personal dignity and respect

The council is performing: Adequately

1.8 What the council does well.

- The progress the council has made with the development of its safeguarding arrangements.
- The quality of purchased placements.

What the council needs to improve.

- The council should continue to embed its safeguarding arrangements and evidence the impact of these improvements.
- The council should further develop arrangements to ensure that carers are part of the expert care team and evidence the impact of these changes.

Leeds: summary of comments from the last stage of moderation in which the council was discussed.

Regional Director Checks

Agree evidence fits the Delivery of Outcomes judgement?	1 - Yes
Have the Tag's been checked and agreed?	1 - Yes
PAN reviewed and content is appropriate?	1 - Yes
APA report reviewed and appropriate?	1 - Yes

Comments and Rationale - to be completed by Regional Director:

Leeds overall judgement has moved from adequate to performing well. Outcome 3 has moved from good to excellent and Outcome 7 from poor to adequate. Outcome 4 has remained at adequate (as assessed by council) but the panel concluded that there had been considerable progress and it was expected that the outcomes would be realised in 2009/10.

Outcome 3 – An in-depth and broad range of structures ensures virtually all groups of people can be included in consultation and a range of evidence of the impact. Large 3rd sector £12.5m funding a year and evaluation by external body of impact, with performance data available changes made to contracts as a result. Positive evaluation by people who use provision. Integrated involvement of people for independent living project. Involvement of people green flagged in CAA

Outcome 4 – A number of improvements, review and development during 2007/08. Improved outcomes expected but too early in year. Councils self assessment accepted.

Outcome 7 – Progress in relation to the Independence, Wellbeing and Choice Inspection action plan has been monitored at routine business meetings held during the year. It has made considerable progress in developing safeguarding arrangements and has undertaken both internal and external audits on the quality of safeguarding referrals and subsequent action taken. Embedding those arrangements is a key area for 2009/10.
