Executive Summary

Leeds Metropolitan University is among the largest higher education institutions in the United Kingdom. Of its 26,000 students, over 22% come from Leeds itself with a further 37% from West Yorkshire. Over 80% of its 2,500 staff live in West Yorkshire. The impact on the local economy of Leeds Met's expenditure in 2006 was calculated to be the equivalent of around 4,200 jobs and £295 million in output. In this very real sense, Leeds Met is embedded in the city and the region. This paper outlines how the university intend to develop their approach to community partnership.
