

Equality, Diversity, Cohesion and Integration Screening

As a public authority we need to ensure that all our strategies, policies, service and functions, both current and proposed have given proper consideration to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

A screening process can help judge relevance and provides a record of both the process and decision. Screening should be a short, sharp exercise that determines relevance for all new and revised strategies, policies, services and functions.

Completed at the earliest opportunity it will help to determine:

- the relevance of proposals and decisions to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.
- whether or not equality, diversity, cohesion and integration is being/has already been considered, and
- whether or not it is necessary to carry out an impact assessment.

If other, please specify

2. Please provide a brief description of what you are screening

In accordance with legislation, the Returning Officer must carry out a review of polling districts, polling places and polling stations by the end of 2013.

A polling district is a small electoral area with a clearly defined boundary. A polling place is a building, plot of land or area within a polling district which is designated as the location for polling to take place. A polling station is a room within the designated building, or, for example, a portable building on a designated plot of land.

This review involves public consultation where interested parties can make representations about an electoral area, or polling station. Examples of this could be a proposal to include a newly built housing estate in an existing polling district, which would allow electors easier access to polling.

The review will be held alongside a "Community Governance Review of Parish and Town Council arrangements". (Please see the equality screening document of the same name.)

3. Relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

All the council's strategies/policies, services/functions affect service users, employees or the wider community – city wide or more local. These will also have a greater/lesser relevance to equality, diversity, cohesion and integration.

The following questions will help you to identify how relevant your proposals are.

When considering these questions think about age, carers, disability, gender reassignment, race, religion or belief, sex, sexual orientation and any other relevant characteristics (for example socio-economic status, social class, income, unemployment, residential location or family background and education or skills levels).

Questions	Yes	No
Is there an existing or likely differential impact for the different equality characteristics?
Have there been or likely to be any public concerns about the policy or proposal?
Could the proposal affect how our services, commissioning or procurement activities are organised, provided, located and by whom?
Could the proposal affect our workforce or employment practices?
Does the proposal involve or will it have an impact on <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Eliminating unlawful discrimination, victimisation and harassment• Advancing equality of opportunity• Fostering good relations

If you have answered no to the questions above please complete sections 6 and 7

If you have answered yes to any of the above and;

- Believe you have already considered the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 4.
- Are not already considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration within your proposal please go to section 5.

4. Considering the impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration

If you can demonstrate you have considered how your proposals impact on equality, diversity, cohesion and integration you have carried out an impact assessment. Please provide specific details for all three areas below (use the prompts for guidance).

§ How have you considered equality, diversity, cohesion and integration? (think about the scope of the proposal, who is likely to be affected, equality related information, gaps in information and plans to address, consultation and engagement activities (taken place or planned) with those likely to be affected)

The review will affect all eligible electors in Leeds (all those people registered to vote who are aged 18 or over).

Specifically, the element of the review which relates to equality is the location of polling stations and the accessibility of the premises designated for polling.

The primary considerations for a review of this type are a requirement of electoral law, and are:

- § The Council must seek to ensure that all electors have such reasonable facilities for voting as are practicable in the circumstances; and
- § The Council must seek to ensure that so far as is reasonable and practicable every polling place is accessible to electors who are disabled

It is also important that we ensure access to the consultation process is available to everyone, and that assistance is provided to those who require it.

The current polling station arrangements have been designated over a number of years, as the result of previous reviews, and local decisions made by consulting the Returning Officer and Ward Councillors.

At each major election, the Returning Officer employs Polling Station Inspectors (PSI's) to visit each polling station. Part of the PSI's duties is to inspect each polling station and provide feedback to the Returning Officer in relation to access for disabled people.

We will also be considering complaints/comments received from electors in relation to their polling station which have been made as a result of elections in 2012.

There are currently 52 polling stations in Leeds which are housed in portable buildings. We will endeavour to relocate these to permanent buildings where possible, with better facilities and access for disabled electors.

We will be publishing a notice of the review which will inform all interested parties of how and when to make representations, and what will happen at each step of the process.

The notice will be published in Council Buildings, on the LCC website, on Talking Point, and will also be supplied to all Councillors, Leeds MPs Parish and Town Council Clerks.

Representations will be accepted via Talking Point, by email, by post or by hand delivery to the Electoral Services Office.

§ Key findings (think about any potential positive and negative impact on different equality characteristics, potential to promote strong and positive relationships between groups, potential to bring groups/communities into increased contact with each other, perception that the proposal could benefit one group at the expense of another)

We will be taking into account the following key points:

§ The comments/feedback from polling station inspectors
 § Comments/complaints from electors following the 2012 elections
 § The representations submitted at both stages of the consultation process

• Actions
 (think about how you will promote positive impact and remove/ reduce negative impact)

The information above will inform the review, and assist us in identifying areas of particular concern.

Relocating as many polling stations as possible from portable buildings to suitable permanent premises will also have a positive impact on polling facilities.

The Returning Officer will continue to monitor all polling stations annually through the inspections carried out by PSI's.
